“Rescuing the Fearful and Dental Disaster”

You Deserve To Eat and Smile Again!

From the minute you step into our unique, state of the art dental office you'll feel you are in the right place. It has been carefully designed to ensure your experience of dentistry is pleasant, enjoyable, and even fun.

You'll see that my staff and I are committed to bringing you friendly service and using a gentle touch. We've even developed a technique for getting you numb that you'll hear our patients say, "I didn't feel a thing"; some even laugh during it! (That sounds unbelievable but it's true.)

Three things top our agenda for each and every patient:

1. A pleasant, enjoyable experience
2. Personal, lifetime dental health
3. A healthy, beautiful smile

We'll show you how to achieve the look that you've always dreamed about. How to see that your smile is your greatest personal asset while ensuring your teeth are healthy, feel good and that they'll last.

Putting a smile on your face and helping it stay there is what we do.

No matter how challenging or difficult your dental situation, we can help you. And if your teeth have gotten to where they are an embarrassment, we'll stop your dental misery and reverse the years of deterioration. You'll love seeing a healthy, vibrant smile that you will feel great seeing in your mirror again.

Our clientele includes CEO's, top executives, small business owners, successful sales people, entrepreneurs, entertainers, models, grandmothers, and regular everyday folks – people who want the best dentistry has to offer. They come from all over the U.S. You could be one of them if you want teeth that look good, feel good and last for a lifetime.

We are proud to be one of a few dental offices that handle complex care (including BOTH implant placement surgery and the cosmetic restoration of your teeth and dental implants).

All your care is in one convenient office by one doctor which means you go from start to finish in the shortest possible time. We offer implant dentistry with intravenous (IV) sedation.

Few dental implant practices provide this same unique blend of advanced dental implant and reconstructive services in one single office location. To make this even more unique, you also get something with your care that you won't find elsewhere and that's our 'peace of mind' Dental Warranty.

Perhaps your biggest problem is missing teeth, painful and broken teeth, or possibly ill-fitting and uncomfortable partials and dentures?

For patients in dentures, that aren't ready for the miracle of dental implants, we also offer Premium Cosmetic Dentures that consistently fool other dentists when they see them during teaching lectures on Denture Cosmetics.

Truthfully, there are a lot of patients with really bad memories of their trips to the dentist. Were too many of your previous dental experiences a "living nightmare?" You may even have a history of literally being put down and feeling mentally abused at the dental office. If your palms feel sweaty and your heart races just thinking about the memories of how horrible those past visits were, you'll be relieved to know that you not alone AND you will finally be listened to, completely understood, comfortable and relaxed; even with the most complicated care. This is all thanks to very special methods of Sedation Dentistry; including IV sedation. There is no benefit to constantly reliving your dental past and that's why we're here to make your dental future comfortable and stress free. You will never-ever-ever feel put down or embarrassed about your situation -- and that's a guarantee!

Perhaps you still have all or most of your natural teeth but they are now worn and broken down by nature's normal natural wear and tear on them. Did you know that many people literally out live their teeth due to our long life spans? Our teeth were never designed to last for this more than doubling of our average lifespans that has occurred in the past 150 years. Many patients find this happening even at relatively young ages in their 40's and 50's. If you look into the mirror and dislike your teeth and smile you may very well be one of these people.

Finally, you may not have any of the major problems or fears that our "dental disaster" patients have but you are a bit tired of feeling like just a number on the assembly line at the typical dental office. If you want to stop being viewed as "just another insurance claim" and get back to having the personal attention you deserve in your dental office, you have also found the right place. As a routine patient, you get great preventive therapy and feel secure knowing that should any major dental problem arise, you'll be in good hands.

We also have a no dental gibberish policy--why should your dentist talk to you in a foreign language that only other dentists can understand? We make it easy for you to understand how implant dentistry and sedation dentistry can get you back to living life as you deserve to live it. No matter how complicated your care may be, you will only hear us discuss all of these advanced treatments and technologies that fit your specific needs and problems in everyday easy to understand terms. Our patients tell us this makes them feel more comfortable than they have ever felt before undergoing complex care that restores their teeth and their life.

One of the final enormous and unique benefits of dental implant or sedation care with us is pure convenience. In fact, you are guaranteed to spend at least 73% less time getting complex dentistry performed by eliminating the needless driving back and forth between multiple dental offices and the time wasting coordination of all those appointments. As an added bonus you get to skip dealing with multiple doctor and staff personalities and office policies. If you want hassle-free dentistry, instead of a rerun of 'who's on first,' then you have come to the right place.

On this website you will see information and details on these unique methods of dentistry, your doctor's background, all of the advanced technologies available to you, a list of testimonials where you'll hear our patients tell you in their own words how their lives have been changed by implant dentistry and sedation dentistry.

Take all the time you need to explore this treasure trove of information because it is one of the most comprehensive resource sites on the web for implant, sedation, and cosmetic dentistry. We made it that way for you to:

1. Answer your questions
2. Help you get to know us and be more comfortable right away
3. Help you understand the Why's of treatment so you can be a Smart Dental Consumer.

My team and I look forward to working with you on your new smile,

John K. Argeros, DMD, AFAAID, Diplomate ABOI/ID
